11. Remuneration

The Company will pay you the annual base salary set out in the Item "Base Salary" of the Summary of Key Employment Details, less applicable tax, based on your current classification under the Modern Award. Your salary will be paid into your nominated bank account by electronic funds transfer on the frequency basis set out in the Item "Frequency of payment of salary" of the Summary of Key Employment Details.

Where applicable, the Company will also pay you overtime, allowances, penalties, and loadings in accordance with the Modern Award.

Unless otherwise set out in this letter, your annual salary and any other payments made to you under this agreement (Remuneration) compensate you for, and can be used to set off, any legal entitlement you may have or become entitled to under the Modern Award, any other industrial instrument, and any relevant legislation applicable to your employment (Industrial Laws). This includes minimum wages, overtime, allowances, loadings, and penalties (Minimum Entitlements). For the purposes of calculating the Minimum Entitlements you may receive under any Industrial Laws, your ordinary time rate is the minimum rate specified for your classification in the applicable Industrial Laws. Your employment may be terminated at any time by either party giving the other party the period of written notice specified in Item "Notice of Termination" in the Summary of Key Employment Details.
